

Back to normal? Was I ever?!

FREEDOM DAY? NOT QUITE

It is so good that restrictions are lifting in the UK as we learn to live with the presence of Covid-19, However, the government are still advising close contact services such as massage to continue to with PPE and cleaning. Unfortunately this means offering less appointments because of the cleaning gaps between each client. I will continue to work longer days but anticipate less treatment hours for a while yet.

As I do treat vulnerable and more susceptible people in the clinic, I am asking you to help me adhere to the regulations and wear a mask when in the clinic. If this is not possible please let me know when you book as it will mean I need to allocate longer for cleaning.

As there are less appointments please give at least 24 hours to cancel and remember messages are not picked up after 5pm on Friday until Monday morning. Leaving messages at the weekend will not allow me to offer the appointment to anyone else until Monday. Any appointments not cancelled with 24 hours notice will be charged for. I try not to do this but with continued restrictions on treatment and rising costs it is unavoidable.

Sorry to say it but there will be a price increase this year. I try to maintain prices as much as possible but the last year has seen rising costs and less work. New prices will apply from 1st September 2021.

30 minutes £32.00
45 minutes £42.00
60 minutes £52.00

Thank you

Say nothing! I would like to thank everyone for their patience and understanding over the past few months while I have been struggling with my voice. I appreciate it may have been a welcome turn of events for some of you! Unfortunately it seems to be recent events and PPE that may be the cause, so I am going to have to be more careful with working hours to prevent a reoccurrence.
